

ANTENNE BOOKS AND CENTRAL BOOKS

Two Magazine Lists from One Place

Central Books and Antenne Books have now been working together for one year. This means retailers get supplied magazines from either list through Central Books.

Antenne Books established in London in 2010, handles publications on art, photography, design, illustration, theory, writing, fashion and culture. It has an extensive list of books and magazines from independent publishers of art and photography.

Please note that Antenne discounts apply to the entire Antenne list. These discounts may be different to what you get from Central Books.

You can still order any book or magazine handled by Antenne Books from Antenne Books if you wish but supplies will come from Central Books:

The Antenne Books list contains many magazines including one off magazines, fanzines, artzines and bookazines. The Antenne titles in this catalogue are those that can be ordered on a standing order basis and have come out in the last 12 months. Like all the titles in this catalogue the information is correct at the time of going to press.

MAGAZINE CATALOGUE 2018

Introduction

Welcome to our 2018 magazine catalogue. Central Books continues to be Europe's largest distributor of magazines to the book trade, galleries and other specialist outlets. Indie magazines and print are thriving, Central Books have been handling magazines since Central Books began in 1939. Along with our colleagues at Antenne Books we hope to continue bringing something different to your shelves.

We've added another seven titles to our own list since the last catalogue. We think you'll find them as compelling as we did when we took them. Antenne Books have carried on stocking up their impressive list, see previous page. We know that trading conditions remain difficult. Retailers need to attract customers with something different to what's available on the internet and know that their prices won't be undercut by the web either. Our specialist magazines score on both counts.

It is no longer said that "Print is Dead", books and magazines are racing ahead after digital's failed attempt to out race them. Small wonder when they are of the quality and variety of those within this catalogue.

FREE TRIALS AND ORDERING

Free Trials

Again we are offering retailers the chance to try out three or more magazines on a free trial basis. This offer is available for any magazine that shows "Available on free trial" under their website address in their catalogue listing. Central Books will supply three free copies for two issues after which supplies will continue at your standard magazine discount. The standing order can be cancelled at any time. Please note retailers have to trial at least three titles and overseas retailers will still have to cover carriage costs. There is an "Index of Free Trial" titles at the very end of the catalogue.

Ordering

Ordering from us is simple, we operate a standing order system: you set up a standing order with us, stating the quantity you require, and each new issue is automatically sent to you. If you have any unsold copies of a magazine when the new issue arrives, you return to us whole copies of magazines priced £10 or over, and just the covers of any others. It is difficult to judge the demand for a particular title straight away, so you can change your standing order at any time. You can, of course, cancel any title that is not selling, so there is no risk of being stuck with a magazine that does not sell in your shop.

We supply bookshops and art galleries around the world, although there are rights restrictions in some areas on a small number of titles. We aim to distribute magazines that have an editorial quality that goes well beyond the typical news trade glossy. In so doing we have picked magazines that suit bookshops and specialist retailers. If there are any titles that you are unfamiliar with we are happy to supply shops with samples; perhaps this will persuade you to extend the range of magazines that you currently carry, and encourage new outlets to try a selection of stock.

To place an order, or ask for samples, just contact our magazine department. Contact details for the magazine department are on page 59. At the time of publication (April 2018) price and frequency for each magazine was correct however prices may change without notice.

Banana Magazine: All Things AZN

The choice for the name Banana is meant to be an inside joke. For anyone who has ever been called a 'banana,' you know that it's a nickname that has been given to many first generation Asians growing up in a western world, like us. It's not meant to be derogatory, but celebratory. Banana strives to navigate through the blurred Eastern and Western boundaries and create a voice for contemporary Asian culture. Banana wants to use the magazine as a platform to feature, celebrate, and join the conversation with Asian creatives in a journey to define their collective identity.
